Children Await St. Nick While Shoppers Rush

Greetings Are Extended to Public Through the Antioch News

Last minute shoppers today were anxiously trying to supply their needs in Antioch stores today while children began to count the hours until Santa Claus comes as Christmas approached.

Most of the group parties are out of the way and tomorrow night will see families beginning their own private observance of the Holy day.

Tonight the Methodist choir under the direction of Charles B. Watson will sing Christmas carols in the church sanctuary and these will be amplified by means of a public address system from the belfry.

Churches Have Programs

The churches of the community had programs over the weekend. The Christmas story in pageantry, speech and song was presented at the Episcopal church at 4 p. m. Sunday. The choir was under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Hays and Mrs. L. R. Van-Patten, organist. A party sponsored by the Mothers' and Teachers' club for the children followed.

At the same time the children of the Methodist church school presented a pageant written and directed by Bernard Guillaume, superintendent.

The annual Christmas party for the children was held Saturday afternoon and the church choir had its party at the church Friday afternoon.

Merchants Have Good Year

From the material side, it is said that Antioch merchants had a good season, and their stocks have been well thinned. The biggest turnover was in toys and other articles for children.

Many of the merchants, professional men and others are using the Antioch News as a medium today in extending their greeting and best wishes. Because of this service the News is published on Tuesday instead of the regular time.

Round Lake Park Now Village With Full Set Of Elected Officers

Progressive Party Wins All But One Office—Large Vote Is Cast

Round Lake Park took its place among the Lake county villages Tuesday with the election of its first officers.

Six hundred and twenty of the villages nearly 700 eligible voters cast their ballots in a spirited election which saw 200 persons voting in the first hour after the polls opened.

Stewart L. McKechnie, a department head at the Hallcraft Corp., Chicago, was elected president; Robert E. Kelley was chosen clerk; and Frank J. Kacprowicz, police magistrate. The trustees are R. B. Jackson, Walter C. Bengson, Fred Kohler, Theo. Vickers, Arthur C. Conrad and Paul S. Stroening.

Win All But One Office

The Progressive Peoples party won all but one office, Walter C. Bengson of the Park Improvement party having gained a post on the board of trustees. Independent candidates for clerk, police magistrate and trustees ran a poor third.

The results of the voting follows: President—Stewart L. McKechnie (Prog. Peoples) 335; Henry W. Kronke (Park Impr.) 276.

Clerk—Robert E. Kelley (PP) 299; George E. Traub (PI) 275; Edward J. Hanly (Ind.) 28.

Police magistrate—Frank J. Kacprowicz (PP) 309; George W. Colby (PI) 226; Earl H. Patterson (I) 69.

Trustees—R. B. Jackson (PP) 326; Walter C. Bengson (PI) 299; Fred Kohler (PP) 297; Theo. A. Vickers (PP) 294; Arthur C. Conrad (PP) 290; and Paul O. Stroening (PP) 281.

All successful candidates and Roald Koller (PP) 271; Lawrence M. Ruther (PI) 270; Herman J. Berringer (PI) 265; John N. Quadman (PI) 253; Arthur W. Saunders (PI) 246; Frank W. Kowl (PI) 234; Fred Fargeson (I) 154; Ray Miller (I) 76; and Alfred R. Benke (I) 59, unsuccessful.

The Progressive Peoples party polled 184 and the Park Improvement party 160 straight tickets. The independent group had no candidate for president but there was indication that its votes went to McKechnie.

McKechnie said he has not decided when he will call the board together for its first meeting.

He is a department foreman at a radio manufacturing plant at Fifth ave. and Kostner st., Chicago. He has served as secretary of the Round Lake Park Improvement association.

Nearly all of the elected officers and their leading opponents were active in the improvement association and because of their activity they were considered worthy of village office.

Dale Barnstable Now Star on Kentucky U. Basketball Quintet

Will Play at Chicago on January 31 Against DePaul Univ.

When the University of Kentucky basketball team comes to Chicago on Jan. 31 in meeting DePaul university at the Chicago stadium a number of Antioch fans will be present to watch the playing of Dale Barnstable, son of Mrs. Eva Barnstable, 634 N. Main st., whose playing on the Wildcat team is phenomenal.

A sophomore at the southern school, Dale is a graduate of Antioch Township High school where he made a name for himself in the Northeast conference. He served 24 months in the army, 15 months with the E. T. O. where he received the all-star trophy in Jubilee at Munich, Germany in March, 1946.

Dale has been at the forward spot in the starting lineup of the Wildcats in all games this season, and this is significant in view of the fact that experts are picking his team as national champions.

Most Improved Player

According to a recent newspaper dispatch from Lexington, Coach Rupp labels Dale as his most improved player over last year. The article on the Antioch ace said:

"Dale Barnstable is a 6-2 lanky youngster with a world of spirit and fight, and his shooting eye is as keen as that of a Kentucky moonshiner. He covers the floor like a carpet, as tough as they come, and the tougher they come the better he likes it."

Barnstable has demonstrated along with four other players selected by Coach Rupp at recent coaching clinics in Springfield, O., and Memphis, Tenn. The clinics were attended by more than 4,000 fans and 150 basketball teams.

Kentucky met DePaul of Chicago last night at Louisville, Ky., and will play the Demons a return game in the Chicago stadium on Jan. 31.

Rescue Squad Has Placed Orders for New Modern Truck

Finest Equipment Will Be Installed—to Keep Old Truck

Purchase of a new truck by the Antioch Rescue squad was announced yesterday by Herman Holbek, captain of the squad.

Arrangements with the Stoughton Body Co., Stoughton, Wis., to construct a body for a Chevrolet chassis were made and it is expected that delivery will be made in March.

The new truck represents the last word in rescue equipment. It will be outfitted with inhalators, gas masks that will withstand any kind of fumes, physician's supplies, flexible grappling hooks that gather but a minimum of weeds in lake dragging, jacks strong enough to lift a freight car, and every kind of first aid need known.

"Nothing in the way of making the truck the best outfitted first aid vehicle in the world will be spared," said Holbek.

The squad has decided to keep the old truck as an auxiliary vehicle so that it will be on reserve in event of more than one demand at one time. It will be taken to fires because it contains a good search light.

"I'm sure that when the new truck arrives those persons who gave to the Rescue Squad fund will feel that their money was well spent and that their lives are more secure as the result of its purchase," said Holbek.

The squad captain said that his men are being rewarded in that recognition of their 24-hour service and appreciation of it is shown in the desire to give them the best of equipment.

Gifts to Sick Veterans In Antioch Total $125

A total of $74.70 was obtained in the containers placed about the village by the American Legion in obtaining a fund to buy gifts "for the Yanks who gave."

The Legion itself voted $50, making about $125 for purchases of Christmas gifts for the veterans who are now incapacitated at hospitals. A few wrapped packages were left at the Antioch News for the veterans these were taken to them today.

The "Gifts for Yanks Who Gave" campaign was on a national scale.

Servicenter Keglers Get Revenge For Last Week's Defeat Sat.

The Antioch Servicenter match team avenged a defeat at the hand of Pete's tavern of Grayslake by sinking the Grayslake team on Saturday evening to the tune of 2757 to 2699. The match was bowled at the Libertyville Recreation. A special doubles match was also bowled with Hallwas and Bauer of Antioch beating Ahrens and Winkler of Grayslake. Last week's match was lost by only four pins and the local boys were out to "get even". A return match will be rolled off on Saturday, Dec. 27 at the Grayslake Recreation.

Home Following Operation

Mrs. Howard Gaston is home from Victory Memorial hospital where she underwent an appendectomy Friday night. She was taken ill Thursday and on Friday her condition became so serious that the operation was decided upon at once. She is making rapid recovery.

The Problem of Depreciation

A very serious problem facing agriculture and industry is the present Federal tax law as it applies to depreciation of property and equipment of many kinds.

Many people believe that an enterprise can keep on charging depreciation against equipment indefinitely, and can deduct the amount from its taxes. This is the opposite of the truth. A concern is not allowed to claim further depreciation on equipment once its original cost has been deducted.

The steel industry presents an excellent example of what this policy entails. That industry must gradually and in some cases rapidly replace extremely costly equipment which is wearing out. The original value of the equipment has been recovered through successive annual depreciation—and that, had prices remained stable, would have paid for replacements. However, a coke oven which cost $1,000,000 in 1916 now costs $3,500,000. A mill-type building costs as much as four times its 1935 price. So it goes, all down the line, with the result that reserves built up through depreciation are now totally incapable of paying for needed new equipment.

This would not be so serious if profits were consistently high. However, over the long term, what accountants call the profit ratios in steel and many other enterprises have been decreasing. Higher operating costs and taxes reduced steel profits in 1945 to little more than half the 1941 level of net return on investment. As a consequence, this great basic industry is faced with one of the most serious problems in its long history.

Many other enterprises, including farming, face a similar problem. The only workable solution seems to be prices which will bring a fair return to investors and at the same time allow for replacement costs.

Mistaken Comparisons

It may be human nature to compare current commodity prices with those prevailing in 1939 or 1940 and conclude that we are now being robbed. But it isn't sound economics. It would be equally sensible to compare 1940 prices with 1940 prices and conclude that costs have been extortionate for decades.

Another fallacy is to compare the conditions following World War II with those which followed World War I or some previous conflict, and to attempt to draw exact parallels. As one of the greatest historians said, "Nothing is permanent but change," and what happened in 1920 and the succeeding years won't necessarily happen again. History may repeat itself in principle, but not in detail.

Everybody passes the buck on prices—just as everybody wants a low price when he buys and a high price when he sells. This blindness to the facts of life has clouded the whole price problem. The workingman wants cheap food and clothing—along with all-time record wages. The farmer wants machinery at prewar prices—along with a record price for crops. Of course, such a Utopia is an impossibility, and those who dance must finally pay the piper.

Prices are high. But that doesn't mean they are artificially high. The major retail systems, both chain and independent, report lower unit profits than they earned seven years or so ago. Many manufacturers report a similar operating experience. Both production and retail distribution are more efficient and less wasteful than ever before. The present price level is the inevitable result of many forces, and is a perfectly natural development, regardless of what the trend may be in the future.

With Dignity and Confidence

The sole threat to the peace of the world lies in the deterioration in relations between the United States and the Soviet Union, and the inability of these two powers to reconcile their policies.

That problem will not be solved by "tough talk"—nor by implications that we can be just as war-like as Russia. And it will not be solved by building up, among our own people, an almost pathological fear of Russia.

Within their limitations, the Soviet leaders are realists. They are impressed by deeds—not by words. And that is true of all the European countries which sooner or later will have to make a choice between a totalitarian government and some form of democratic government. The influence and prestige of the United States will grow in direct proportion to what we do rather than what we say.

We must, of course, maintain our military strength. We must also show by demonstration that our system can out-produce any other system. We must prove beyond the shadow of a doubt our faith in free enterprise at home before we hope to "sell" the merits of free enterprise abroad. We must deal with all powers, Russia included, with dignity and confidence. That is the only possible road to a peaceful solution of world problems.

Library News

Halfway down the Florida peninsula is Lake Okeechobee and south and southwest from it runs for a hundred miles a strange river of fresh water and saw grass, fifty, sixty, seventy miles wide. "The Everglades", by Marjory Stoneman Douglas, tells the story of this teeming, uncharted country and the Seminole Indians who live there. This book was given to the library in memory of Allen Dean Hanke.

"A Treasury of the Familiar" edited by Ralph L. Woods, is a rare collection of poems, speeches, limericks, letters and episodes familiar to all Americans. The excellent index locates many half-forgotten poems and ditties connected with happy memories. "A Treasury of the Familiar" was presented to the library in memory of Miss Lillie Darby.

HOW TO SAVE HALF THE WINTER FUEL BILL TOLD BY UNIVERSITY

Rising coal and fuel oil prices give added point information released by the Small Homes Council at the University of Illinois telling about home insulation, which can save as much as one-half the winter fuel bill—one shovel of coal from every two.

Fifty per cent is the saving estimate for a typical two-story frame house with wood or shingle siding to which tight storm windows and doors, four inches of insulation between ceiling joist and three and five-eighths inches between wall studs is applied.

The facts about insulation and fuel saving, many resulting from years of careful research at the University, are presented in a free, eight page non-technical circular. The high spot in it is a table showing reductions in a fuel bill possible in eight typical types of construction for one-story and two-story homes.

Benefits of insulation, the circular says, include greater comfort by making walls and window surfaces warmer, reducing drafts, and making heat more uniform; cooler houses in summer; and money saved by reducing fuel needs and requiring a smaller heating plant or less load on existing equipment. Also walls and ceilings are cleaner because dust and dirt do not gather on warm surfaces as they do on cold.

Good insulation will not attract insects and mice and will not form fire hazard, will not absorb moisture and get soggy and will not deteriorate or settle, the circular explains.

New Year's Day and Leap Year Day Both Important to Tenants

New Year's day, marking the end of the period in which rent-increase leases may be negotiated, and Leap Year day, February 29, 1948, marking the end of the present federal rent law, are fast approaching dates of significance to tenants and to landlords, Norman Nicholson, Area Rent Representative, stated today.

In addition to marking the end of the lease-making period, January 1 will also see the beginning of decontrol for all rental properties that are under rent-increase leases, he said.

"The end of rent control really comes two months early for tenants under rent-increase leases," Nicholson reminded citizens.

"From January 1 on, only the terms of the lease will govern such rentals. There is no recourse to the rent of office, starting then, on places where renters by lease are guaranteed housing at least until December 31, 1948."

He emphasized that federal rent control continues in effect through January and February for all rentals under rent-increase leases.

"The rent official suggested that both tenants and landlords make certain of their position under the rent law prior to January 1."

Regal China Employees Have Party on Saturday

Nearly 200 persons including guests from the Chicago branch were guests at the Christmas party given by the Regal China Co. for their employees at Pregener's resort Saturday evening.

Dinner was served at 8:30 p. m. and the evening following was given over to dancing. Dave Kravitz, general manager, and Harold Cardiff, plant superintendent, had charge of the event. There was an exchange of gifts at the close.

Juniors of the Antioch High school contracted for the purchase of their class rings from Spices Bros. Chicago while the seniors purchased their commencement invitations from Morgans, Inc., also of Chicago, in their meeting Thursday.

The design of the class ring has not as yet been decided upon but there is strong indication that it will bear an Indian head, the emblem of the Sequoias.

Food Consumption

While the per capita consumption of food has remained practically constant over the past 35 years at about five pounds per person per day, the nutritional content has been greatly improved.

SHORT STORY

The Weed Was Dying

By John Christopher

JOE COLIN looked at the blonde girl behind the counter as if he hadn't seen her for the last 21 years. And he hadn't. Almost to the day come October 5. Even after 21 years a guy can't forget the birth date of his daughter.

She looked the spitting reflection of her mother, years back when Martha and Joe had decided they had made a mistake in marrying each other.

It was too late then, because the kid was on its way, and even Joe knew it took a father and a mother to give it the correct backing. But if the old man hadn't had the same correct backing, Joe had decided, he was like a weed. He had to be pulled out, to let the good seed grow.

Joe had figured he was a weed, and had pulled himself out.

"Evening, mister! Can I help you?" Joe looked up. A lump settled in his throat. His daughter was smiling at him with stars in her eyes.

Twenty-two years old! When he had last seen her, she was a mere trick of one, a curly-haired kid, learning her first steps. Carrie, they had named her. After nobody in particular. Martha had just liked the name, that was all. One thing, though, wonder if Martha had done something with "Colin"?

"I used to live here years ago," Joe said, to start conversation.

"You did?" Her blue eyes met his for a moment of sparkling interest. "Thought you'd come back and see how things have changed?" "Well, sort of." He stroked the beard. "I used to know a lot of people around here. What's your name?" "I might know your old man."

"Name's Lester," she told him. "Carrie Lester."

LESTER. So Martha had ditched "Colin." "Lester," Joe mused. "Hack, I knew your old man! What's he doing now?"

"I don't know," she said. "Mother thinks he's out in California."

"How about you?" he asked finally. "Got a husband—or maybe a boy friend?"

Her face gave off warmth like sunshine. "A boy friend," she said brightly. "But it won't be long before the Mr. and Mrs. If you're here in another 15 minutes, you'll see him. He's coming after me."

Joe grinned. "I'll be here," he said.

She brought in his meal. He just finished it when the door opened and a tall, young man in a brown tweed suit swept into the room like a stray, autumn leaf.

Her eyes brightened but politely she asked Joe his name, and introduced him. The boy, she said, was Harry Bradshaw.

"Years ago," she explained, "Mr. Colin used to live here. We got Suddenly Joe knew that the weed was dying.

sort of acquainted while he waited for his food.

"So you kids are slated for the long walk up the altar, eh?" Joe remarked.

THE Bradford kid's face split in a long smile.

"Look," Joe said, matter of factly, "I got a few green-backs saved up. I'd like to give it to you two for a wedding present. Two hundred dollars. Maybe you'd like to buy something for the baby—when it comes. Huh?"

"No thanks," Harry said. "We certainly appreciate it, but we both work. It wouldn't be right."

Joe drew out a checkbook. He grinned good-naturedly. "I'll draw up a check, anyway."

The two youngsters looked bewildered.

"Go on," urged Joe. "Take it. It's good. Don't worry about me."

She took it. "You're wonderful," she whispered. "And I can't understand why. Thanks—a lot."

Joe smiled and walked out, breathing in the cool, night air. Funny thing, but now he realized that something had changed in the weed. And suddenly Joe knew that after years of battling harsh winds, snow, cold, and rain, the weed was dying.

And Joe was the weed.

T.B. Association Busy In Clinical Work and In Its Sale of Seals

Almost keeping pace with the contributions to the annual Christmas Seal Sale are the requests for the services of the Lake County Tuberculosis association.

Plans are under way for tuberculin testing in three large high schools in the county and twelve grade schools. Two industries are considering x-ray surveys for their personnel and employees. One hospital is asking the service of the mobile x-ray unit in x-raying all employees and nurses.

Clinics of the association in cooperation with the medical staff of the sanatorium continue three times weekly, Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8 to 10 a. m. Owing to the Christmas holiday these clinics will not be held on December 24 and 26. From March 31, to October 1st, 1947, 1,006 persons were examined in these clinics, coming from all parts of Lake county. With the resultant home visits from clinics and x-ray surveys there are very few idle moments in the hours of the nurses of the association.

Along with this, the clerical workers in the office are not only kept busy in opening the Christmas Seal contributions arriving daily, but are keeping records of x-raying and mailing out reports. This week a total of 1,484 reports were mailed to participants in x-ray surveys since Nov. 7, 1947.

Many persons who did not receive their Christmas Seals through the mail have been calling the office for Seals. These can always be obtained from the office in Waukegan, and in other localities persons can contact Board Members from their vicinity. This week Great Lakes Naval Station called for Christmas Seals.

While the daily receipts from the Seal sale have fallen somewhat lower than last year on the same date of Sale, Mrs. Mabel McCullough, Seal Sale Chairman, is hopeful that the daily receipts will gradually increase and pass the figure of last year. Make it your slogan to "Buy and Use Christmas Seals."

Sunday afternoon callers at the Max Irving home were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brooks and children, from Waukegan, also Mr. and Mrs. Sam Volpe, from Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Thompson and Miss Helen were Sunday evening dinner guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. M. Jorgenson in Kenosha. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thompson and two children, from McHenry, and Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, from Waukegan.

Former Grass Lake Resident Marries in Denver Nov. 16

FORMER GRASS LAKE—The Grace Methodist church in Denver was the scene of a wedding at 2 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 16 in which Miss Phyllis Margaret Stott, Denver, formerly of Grass Lake, became the bride of Daniel Ferguson also of that city.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gibling of Gering, Neb., and her husband is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ferguson of Denver.

The double ring ceremony was witnessed by the immediate family and close friends. Miss Arlene Neville of Denver was bridesmaid and Harold May, Jr., was best man.

The bride wore a two-piece beige suit, fashioned with a peplum which ended in a long ruffle flare at the back. Her accessories were brown and her corsage lavender orchids.

Miss Neville wore a grey suit with black accessories and a corsage of white camellias.

People Saving Money Bond Sales Indicate

November sales of Savings Bonds in Illinois totaled $38,643,110, as reported by Arnold J. Rau, State Director of the Treasury's U. S. Savings Bonds Division.

Series E. sales were $24,309,027; Series F. $2,025,583; Series G. $12,308,500.

"In connection with the current concern over inflation, it is heartening to note," said Mr. Rau, "that total sales of Savings Bonds in the nation are continuing to exceed redemptions, and that the value of Savings Bonds outstanding had reached a new high of nearly $52 billion at the end of November, of which more than $45 billion worth are in the hands of individuals."

"In E bonds alone there are $30,000,000 outstanding, all owned by individuals, and this sum is within one-quarter of one per cent of the peak volume of the E bonds outstanding at the close of the Victory Loan at the end of 1945. In other words, thrifty Americans have been able to increase the Savings Bond total and to sustain the volume of E bonds during two years of post-war readjustment, despite the rising cost of living. The record is a cause for gratification for all of us," said Mr. Rau.

Orphans of Veterans Will Get Educational Assistance from State

Orphans of veterans of World War I and II who died as a result of service may be eligible for educational aid from the State of Illinois.

The aid, in the form of a $150 a year allowance and free tuition at the University of Illinois and State Normal schools, is payable to such children between the ages of 14 and 22 while they are in school.

Established by the state to encourage children to remain in school and complete their education, the allowance can be used for board, tuition, fees, books or clothing.

Those eligible must be orphans of a parent who died in service or who since service died from a service-connected disability. The orphan must have resided in the state for 12 months.

All such cases should be reported to Arthur G. Adams, the Illinois Veterans Commission service officer in Lake County, who will check each case to determine if children are eligible. The office is located at The American Legion Home, Waukegan.

VOLUME LXII. FIRST IN SERVICE TO READERS ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 25, 1947 FIRST IN RESULTS TO ADVERTISERS NUMBER 21

The true Christmas Spirit is not found in the glittering tinsel of the Yule tree, but in the true expressions of good will and friendship the season brings. And may we add to the many you will receive our own greeting and hope that peace, prosperity and happiness will be yours.

The Antioch News

That best part of a good man's life—
His little, nameless unremembered acts
Of kindness and of love.
WILLIAM WORDSWORTH

Christmas is the season of the open heart and the open door. Let none stand out in the cold or be unremembered.

In this community of good fellows, where each helps share the other's happiness and all do their part towards making the Christmas season enjoyable for each and everyone, it is a privilege to be in a position to serve you. We take great pleasure in wishing you a MERRY CHRISTMAS

Krueger and Sexauer

THERE are a thousand and one ways of extending the Season's Greetings to you, but no words we can put into writing, no words we can frame with our lips, ring with more sincerity than the old-fashioned greeting—

While angels hovered overhead, the Star of Bethlehem guided the Three Wise Men to the Manger at Bethlehem. We cannot offer you their gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh. Our gift must be restricted to the old, but heartfelt wish for all the joys and blessings of the Yuletide season.

One man — one of many — created a character who in child-like faith and all-embracing love will live through the centuries as the symbol of Christmas.

The man was Charles Dickens; his character was Tiny Tim. And in the words of Tiny Tim, oft-repeated, we'd like to say:

YULETIDE
TO ALL

Of Course you believe in Santy!...

But even if you don't right now, the chances are ten to one that at one time in your career—the short pants or long curls stage—there was no doubt in your mind that there was a Santa Claus. You not only believed in him but you were in awe of him!

Santa Claus was a short roly-poly gentleman habitually clad in red with flowing white beard. He drove through the world Christmas Eve in a heavily-laden sleigh drawn by eight dashing reindeer.

It's a beautiful old myth—as much a part of the joyous Christmas season as is our annual wish for a Merry Yuletide for you and yours!

And to all of you our entire organization wishes loads of good cheer and a genuine old-fashioned merry Christmas!

Whether it's Santa Claus, Kris Kringle or Father Christmas, let us hail the patron saint of children on this day of days.

Christmas is the season that, above all others, turns the thoughts of mankind back to the all-enveloping innocence of childhood—away from the pure selfishness and commercialism of the every-day world towards the joys of giving and sharing.

It is in that true spirit of Christmas that we wish for you all the blessings of this joyous season.

● Again gay carols ring out with their cheery message of holiday joy.

● In the old, old spirit of Christmas, voices of the carolers echo the message of "... tidings of great joy." Thus, too, do we join the carolers in wishing for you the blessed gifts of Peace on Earth, Joy, Good Will to Men.
